

FINANCE FOR BOARD MEMBERS OF PUBLIC BODIES

Thursday, 6 July 2017, 9.30am – 12.30pm

A Governance Forum Workshop at the Institute of Public Administration 57-61 Lansdowne Road, Dublin 4.

The board members of a public body must ensure that there is proper financial reporting and a system of internal financial control in place. While all board members are unlikely to be financial experts, they are collectively responsible for the production of the statutory accounts and meeting reporting and disclosure requirements. This workshop will assist board members and other senior executives to understand the key concepts and issues which arise in the review of the financial reports and systems in a public interest body.

The issues to be addressed will include:

- What are the board's responsibilities?
- What are the particular features of public sector financial reporting?
- How can a board provide assurance that the financial statements meet the requirements under the Code of Practice for the Governance of State Bodies (2016)?
- What information should the board receive from the executive?
- What are the key issues around finance that a board member should be aware of?

This workshop will combine an overview of key financial concepts and discuss how a member/executive who is not expert in finance or accounting can play an effective role in the oversight and discussion of financial procedures.

The workshop will be run in an interactive format. The emphasis will be on putting concepts in a topical and relevant context. Participants will be involved in the discussion of case examples based on actual issues which have arisen.
